DAILY OVERVIEW

From Friday, November 5th to Sunday, November 7th, I will be sharing my step-by-step wedding planning roadmap to help you to plan more efficiently and embrace a new level of organisation.

This is the process I've taught to many brides just like you all over the world and it combines practical Taurus-like actions with mindset tweaks and shifts to help you move from scarcity to abundance with your planning process.

Each day of our 3-day challenge has a specific theme and during the Challenge, I'll reveal the 3 easy daily tasks for you to complete.

DAY 1

Building Your Mood Board & Clarifying Your Vision

I meet two different versions of a bride on a daily basis, they've either had their wedding planned out, knowing exactly what they've wanted for years or they're feeling completely overwhelmed, unaware and ready to feel inspired.

Whichever version you resonate most with, you'll get the opportunity to dig a little deeper on Day 1 of this exciting challenge.

Together, we're going to build your mood board, physical or digital.

We'll be identifying the different themes and colour schemes as a group and in our evening live training, I'll be walking you through some of the most popular, trending colour schemes.

I'll also be doing a bonus topic in the same broadcast on Colour Psychology & how it relates to your relationship too, super interesting so make sure you join live to learn even more about your relationship!

DAY 2

Building, Allocating & Tracking Your Budget

It's not the sexiest task but it is the most important!

Building a realistic budget plan is essential to avoid overwhelm and stress both before and after the wedding.

On Day 2 we'll be using my proven 'Budget Savvy Boss Bride Blueprint' method to map out a realistic savings plan for your big day.

During our live training in the evening, I'll be lifting the lid on those pesky hidden costs and offering up ways for saving money in different areas of your wedding too.

I'll also be giving you a bonus free gift on Day 2 as well so stay tuned!

DAY 3

Choosing & Getting The Best Out Of Your Wedding Vendors

Your suppliers play the most pivotal role in bringing your vision to life, so we've got to get them right!

On day 3, we're covering everything you need to know around finding, booking and managing your suppliers.

By joining us for our live broadcast, you'll get a front-row seat to those specific, key questions or actions that will be needed by your suppliers, early to avoid overwhelm as you approach the big day.

I'll also be sharing with you an exciting addition to the Wed-in-Bliss family that launches in partnership with all of our amazing suppliers on our platform in early 2022. Don't miss it!
